(Concluded)

III. ANALYSIS OF LAPSE IN 01, PERSONAL SERVICES

25X1 The 1953 fiscal year budget for the PSB staff provided for a total of 73 permanent positions at a total authorized annual salary rate of [ ] An estimated savings (lapse) due to turnover, delays in recruiting, etc., of approximately 5% was applied to this total to derive the estimated dollar requirements of [ ] In addition to these funds 25X1 for permanent staff, there was provided a sum for consultant hire amounting to [ ] These two amounts together comprise the 01, Personal Services
item totalling [ ] 25X1

25X1 In fiscal year 1953, the total PSB Personal Services obligations were [ ] which means that [ ] in savings over the estimated 25X1 savings of $ [ ] were realized.

25X1 The total savings in the authorized rates were due to a number of contingencies arising since the budget was approved:

(a) For instance, unexpected savings amounting to [ ] were 25X1 realized from the loan of services of staff from the member agencies for which no reimbursement was claimed.

25X1 (b) A large saving, [ ] was due to positions being filled by employees whose rate of pay was less than had been budgeted.

(c) The largest savings, [ ], were due to positions that 25X1 remained unfilled due to two changes in Directors and a deliberate
"freeze" on recruiting.
